Academics---

Fifteen academic departments at North Scott High School offer courses in various areas, from the standards of English, math, social studies and science to agriculture, and driver education. Recent building additions have enlarged the science and industrial arts areas. The special education wing completed in 1986 is one of the best facilities in the state. The home-building class, which began in 1976, provides a "hands on" work experience and a lasting example of work for the students involved. The list of classes offered to students, which is reviewed periodically, provides for a great variety, allowing the North Scott student to plan a class schedule to fulfill many needs.

Athletics---

North Scott took a big step in the area of athletics in 1978, when it left the Big Bend conference to join the Mississippi-Eight, the most prestigious activities conference in the state. Since that time, North Scott has captured one conference championship and actively competes in varsity sports for both boys and girls.

Football is the leader of boy's sports at N.S., but cross-country running, basketball, wrestling, track, golf, tennis and baseball finish out the eleven-month sports season. Softball is the prominent summer sport for girls, but volleyball, long-distance running, basketball, track, tennis and golf precede it during the school year.

Fine Arts---

Band, Choir, and Lancer Productions make-up the performing fine arts in North Scott, and all three can call the new fine arts auditorium "home".

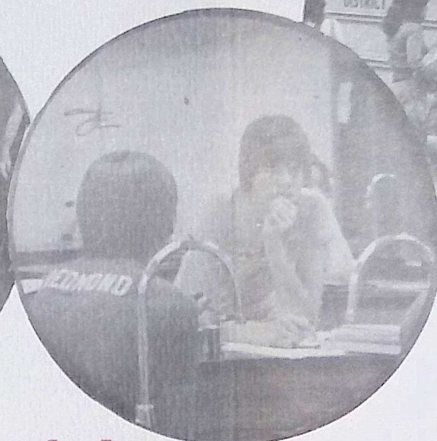

The North Scott marching band is a regular feature at all N.S. home football games, with assistance from the baton twirlers and the flag girls. N.S. also has a pep band, stage band, symphonic band, and award-winning jazz band, which has regularly earned the rank of "best in the state" in its division.

The North Scott singers are the premier singing group at North Scott, and have had experiences ranging from cutting their own record to traveling to Austria to show for their work at N.S. North Scott also features a Mixed Chorus, and two swing choirs. The Music Boosters actively support us with funds and activities.

Lancer Productions regularly sponsors the drama productions at North Scott, which include a fall play, dinner theater, and children's theater. Involvement in L.P. can range from on-stage performing to back-stage crew. L.P. also encourages participation at various speech tournaments in the area and also sponsors their own Lancer Invitational Speech Tournament.

Clubs and Organizations---

School involvement outside class is stressed at North Scott, and the number of clubs offered allows students to find whatever they enjoy doing. Clubs offered at N.S. provide a chance for students to find that involvement. Students with high enough academic background may be asked to join the National Honor Society. Pep Club is open to students who would like to support the school's athletes, especially during Homecoming. Students with an interest in journalism may sign on either of the school's publications, the newspaper, the Lance, or the yearbook, the Shield, which are both regular and award winners. The Fellowship of Christian Athletes, one of the school's largest organizations, provides students with a meeting group to discuss their religious beliefs. If a student can't seem to find a club that suits his particular needs, he is encouraged to set up his own new club, like the recently organized Close-Up Club, which works to send members to Washington, D.C.

At NSHS over 70% of our student body participate in extra-curricular activities!

In 1978, North Scott High School started a unique exploratory program called REACH, an acronym for relating effectively and creating harmony. As we meet in small groups for fifty minutes at a time, we try to create a caring environment. We discuss problems and solutions in our ever changing world. Handing out schedules and reviewing the student handbook are part of REACH but so are discussions about drinking, school spirit, and peer pressure.

The REACH program is administered by a committee of both teachers and students which continually study the meetings and their effectiveness.

we are the Lancers—

WELCOME to North Scott High School. Since 1957 we have been growing into what you see today.

We try to provide the best possible atmosphere, services, activities, and quality education for our student body. We are proud of what our staff and communities provide the students of the North Scott Community School District in its high school.

As you see our facilities and how our building has grown, we hope you will also see students learning for today and tomorrow. This is our goal.
